DESIGN SAM HECHT AND KIM COLIN
WÄSTBERG, SWEDEN

Dalston, designed by London-based Sam Hecht and Kim Colin for Wästberg+, blends industrial influence with refined design. With its simple yet sophisticated form, it introduces a quiet sense of elegance to contemporary interiors.

Crafted from high-quality materials, Dalston features a sleek cylindrical shade that delivers both direct and diffused light.

Its minimalist form is complemented by a solid brass detail, lending warmth and subtle character while allowing it to sit comfortably across a range of interior styles, from urban lofts to more traditional settings.

Dalston is well suited to creating focused illumination in dining areas, kitchens or living rooms, offering a bold yet understated lighting solution. With its carefully considered proportions and timeless design, it brings both style and function to the space.
