

Ledge

DESIGN GDC
OFFICE EDIT, AUSTRALIA

The Ledge modular collection comprises of a range of versatile, fully customisable, seating options available in various shapes and sizes. Designed to be used in single sections or together with related units, infinite configurations can be composed making it an ideal solution for breakout spaces or reception waiting areas.

Units are available with and without back rests that can be configured as double sided seating or as long benches which can be joined together for continuous runs or angled to suit the specification. Designed and built with the contract market in mind, the front edge beneath the seat is tapered to reduce the incidence of scuffing and general wear and tear and the internal carcass is constructed from solid reinforced FSC timber.

Ledge is available with optional armrests that can be repositioned to either end or centre positioned and attached fixed tables are also available. Further adding to its versatility, various base options are available to suit the desired aesthetic, including: concealed glides, timber plinth or timber post or steel legs. Floor fixings are also available upon request.
