

Maki

DESIGN DRILL DESIGN
CRASSEVIG HOUSE FABRICS, ITALY

Born from the meeting between Crassevig and the Japanese studio Drill Design, Maki is a system of benches characterised by de_cor inspired by round holes, arranged in regular rows, which make them light and dynamic. Three simple elements allow you to create endless configurations, in different environments: from a small waiting room to a large hall, indoor or outdoor. The seat is available in oak plywood, natural, red or black, or black HPL, also suitable for outdoor use. An upholstered panel is available. The structure, made of tubular metal, is proposed in white, red, black lacquer or chromed.
