DESIGN RALPH RAPSON
LOLL DESIGNS, USA

Going through the impeccable furniture sketches of midcentury architect Ralph Rapson could possibly be one of the best ways to spend a cold winter afternoon in Minnesota. When LOLL located his Cave Chair illustration they immediately thought it would be a great collaboration piece that fit the aesthetic of their modern outdoor furniture. Originally conceived in 1943 as plywood with a cushion, it was never actually produced. Part of Loll's Rapson Collection, this perfectly oversized, futuristic, comfortable and fun, modern cave chair will induce hours of conversation whether you're sitting in it or just walking by.

The Rapson collection includes the Cave oversized lounge chair, standard lounge chair and rocker.
