DESIGN ALBAN LE HENRY
COLOS, ITALY

Torre seating features two parts made from glass-fibre-reinforced polypropylene: a four-legged base and a backrest that, when assembled, create a cohesive look. The chair's durable material and structure make it ideal for outdoor use in spaces like terraces, alfresco areas, and gardens.

Inspired by traditional bistro chairs, Torre suits restaurants and bars while also being a popular choice for residential settings, including dining rooms and bedrooms.

Designed for vertical stacking, Torre allows for compact storage when not in use, making it perfect for spaces that require flexible seating arrangements. Available in seven colours, it can also be customised with a small upholstered panel in fabric or imitation leather for added comfort and style.
